Vol. 7, No. 24 | OAK RIDGE, TENNESSEE | Wednesday, June 17, 1953

New Issue Plan Set For Driving Permits

Distribution Will Be On Alphabetical Basis

Plans for issuing Government Motor Vehicle Operator's Permits to Y-12ers to replace permits expiring on July 1 have been announced in a plant bulletin. To make the job of issuing the permits easier on all concerned, they will be given out over a period of several weeks on an alphabetical basis depending on the first letter of the last names of employees.

Here is the schedule for issuance of the new permits:

A through D, before July 1.

E through J, before August 1.

K through P, before September 1.

Q through Z, before October 1.

This schedule, of course, is for Y-12ers now holding valid permits that expire on July 1, 1953. Y-12 drivers now holding permits expiring July 1 may continue to drive until the new permits are issued.

Distribution of the new permits will be made by department heads through Supervision. Drivers must turn in their old Government permits and show a new Tennessee State Driver's License before receiving the new permits. The distribution will begin within the next few days.

Carbide Wives Set Meeting For Tonight At Ridge Hall

Mrs. Larry F. Koontz, wife of a Y-12er, will be the executive board member in charge of the meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight, Wednesday, June 17, of the Carbide Wives. The meting will be held in the East Lounge of the Ridge Recreation Hall and all Y-12 wives are urged to attend the session.

In addition to playing bridge and canasta, the group will hold its semi-annual election of five members of the executive board.

Hostesses for the meeting tonight will be Mesdames William Cabbage, Delbert Davis, D. L. Stoddard, T. M. Deal, N. H. Hurd and M. L. Angel, Jr.

CHIPPED BEEF, NOODLES TOPS THURSDAY SPECIAL

The popular 50-cent Thursday Special Lunch at the Y-12 cafeteria will feature creamed chipped beef with noodles, au gratin, as the entree for tomorrow, Thursday, June 18. In addition to the entree the lunch will include one vegetable, choice of salad or dessert and rolls and butter.

Social Security Check Frequently Is Urged

Y-12ers May Obtain Status In Knoxville

The Social Security Administration of the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare recently pointed out "there is strength in numbers," especially when applied to the social security account-number cards.

The Administration declares that every individual social security card of a Y-12 employee, plus millions of others throughout the nation, represent the social security accounts that give financial strength to old age and survivors insurance systems. The nine numbers on the cards indicate the stake of the individual in the system.

Important To Make Check

It is important that all Y-12ers and others covered by social security check periodically with the Social Security Administration on the amount of earnings credited to their account. By doing so the employee can keep up with his or her status with the Administration.

Earnings can be credited to social security accounts only through the use of the right account number. Since wages earned are the basis of a person's social security insurance benefit, it is important to treat social security cards and the numbers on them with a lot of respect. It may mean thousands of dollars to the insured employee and members of his family.

G. C. Miller Named Bakelite President

Former Carbide Official Succeeds H. S. Bunn

George C. Miller has been appointed President of the Bakelite Company, a Division of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation, it has been announced by Morse G. Dial, President of the Corporation. Miller succeeds H. S. Bunn, Vice-President of Union Carbide, who now succeeds the late J. W. McLaughlin as Chairman of Bakelite and as a member of the Appropriations Committee of Union Carbide.

G. C. Miller

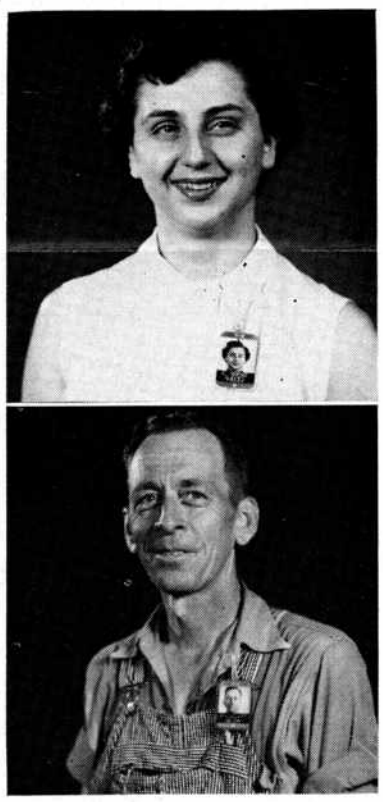
Miller attended Daniel Baker College, Brownwood, Tex. He entered the employ of Linde Air Products Company, another Division of Union Carbide in 1922. After several years as a field engineer, and subsequently a construction engineer for Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Company, he was transferred to this Company's early development on plastics.

In 1934, Miller became a technical sales representative for the Plastics Department of Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Company, rising progressively to Sales Manager of this Department, General Sales Manager, Thermoplastics Department of the Bakelite Company in 1944; Vice-President and General Sales Manager of Bakelite in 1945; and Vice-President in charge of sales in June 1952.

He is a member of the Society of the Plastics Industry, Society of Automotive Engineers, Chemists Club of New York, and the North Hempstead Country Club. The Millers live at Manhasset, N. Y. They have one son and a married daughter.

BRITAIN KEEPS SECRET

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill recently told the House of Commons that German military experts visiting England will not be shown atomic secrets, says the London Express.



THIS MAN AND WOMAN are properly wearing their Y-12 badges so they can be most easily seen by Guards checking identification of persons in the plant area. These two Y-12ers attach their badges to lapels or their collars.

Drivers Asked To Report Needed Repairs To Vehicles

In a move to even improve the present high standard of maintenance of Y-12 motor vehicles, all drivers of government vehicles in the plant now are asked to make note of any repair or adjustment needed on the vehicles and turn it in to the Garage, Bldg. 9712. Pads with forms for making these reports are being placed in the glove compartments of all passenger automobiles and trucks in the plant area. Drivers are asked to make their report and recommendation for needed repairs on the regular inspection dates for the vehicles or earlier if the work is necessary to keep the vehicles in safe operating condition.

Proper Badge Wearing Is Required In Plant

Cooperation Of Y-12ers With Guards Is Urged

The proper wearing of identification badges by Y-12ers at all times while at work in the plant area is a vital phase of the security program of the plant. The badges are issued to Y-12ers upon employment only after a thorough investigation has shown that the employee is trustworthy and a good security risk to warrant his having access to areas of important security significance.

Guards Constantly On Alert

Y-12 Guards are instructed to be constantly on the alert to spot anyone in the plant area without a badge—as such a person undoubtedly has gained access to the plant without authority. However, careless wearing or improper display of badges by bona fide employees could result in the offending Y-12er being checked by a Guard to see if the employee really has a badge after all.

Y-12ers can easily cooperate by being sure to wear their badges properly, in easy view of the Guards. The preferred position is, of course, with the face of the badge outward and worn well above the waist level. The best location for the badge is to clip it on a coat lapel or on the shirt or blouse collar, usually on the left as this is the side from which the Guards generally check the identification.

Badges of Fundamental Design

The Y-12 badges are of fundamental design for all employees,

Strictly Confidential

Communications from former Y-12ers now in service are particularly welcomed by this colyum —especially if they are from attractive feminine folks. Last Thursday came a card from Edna Fine, the former Engineering Department gal who joined up with the Women's Air Force some time back. She proudly anounced receiving her first "stripe" of promotion, now being a A/3c—a "big wheel" as she puts it. She says she was "shocked" at seeing her picture in The Bulletin of May 27 when her military life was pictorially reviewed. Our best wishes to Edna and the rest of the Y-12 folks now wearing the country's uniforms, wherever they might be.

So much for Edna—now we'll get on with the business of telling you about other people's business.

49ers Virtually Clinch Crown

First Half Of Season Ends Thursday Night

The 49ers virtually clinched the first-half championship in the Y-12 Plant Softball League last week by annexing two wins to their unbeaten record.

The first half of the season will end tomorrow night, Thursday, June 18.

49ers Rally For Win

The 49ers nipped Plant Protection 8 to 6 in a rip roaring battle. Plant Protection jumped to a one run lead in the first inning but the 49ers fought from behind and hung on to their slender margin. Bill Dodson slammed a home run for the winners and Hall swatted a round tripper for the losers. The 49ers spanked Maintenance 15 to 5 to keep their record unblemished as Ed Sise had three base hits to lead the winners. Roark led the losers with two base knocks.

The second place Peons whipped the improving Colts 13 to 4 as Haun and Law combined their talents to limit the losers to five hits. Brown paced the Peons attack with two bingles and Gardner got two hits for the losers.

Engineers Take Thriller

The Engineers whipped ADP 8 to 7 in a thriller as the winners tallied two runs in the last of the seventh to triumph. Shotts banged a triple for ADP to pace the long ball knocking for the evening.

ADP won their other contest of the week by blasting the Colts 17 to 4. The ADP lads tallied seven runs in the first two innings and moved easily to victory. Johnson, ADP shortstop, had a perfect night at bat including a homer.

UCJV got back in the win column last week at the expense of Maintenance 18 to 13. Base hits were a dime a dozen in this tussle. Richardson got three knocks for the winners and Baker came through with four bingles for losers.

The schedule for the remainder of this week follows:

Wednesday, June 17—6:15 p. m., Plant Protection vs Peons. 7:45 p. m., UCJV vs Engineers.

Ex-Y-12ers Playing Ball In Nebraska

B. B. and Bobby Hopkins, both sons of C. B. Hopkins, Superintendent of the Y-12 Maintenance Department, were among a group of East Tennessee baseball players who left last week for Nebraska to play semi-pro ball during the summer months. Bill Asbury, one of the group and a former Y-12er who played with B. B. Hopkins on the plant varsity baseball team a couple of years ago, was among the group as was Don Ballew and Billy Dodds, two University of Tennessee players during the past season. Playing for University of Tennessee last season, B. B. Hopkins won the Southeastern Conference batting championship and also was named to a conference and all-district team.

Time For Entering Tennis Ladder Event Extended To Friday Afternoon, June 19

Wanted—More climbers for the Y-12 tennis ladder, apply Y-12 Recreation Office, North Portal, before 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, June 19. Immediate acceptance guaranteed.

Since the original announcement last week that tennis competition was being arranged for Y-12 netters in lieu of teams in the Oak Ridge City Leagues, some players responded to the call. However, the Recreation Office believes that with the extension of time for a week being granted, more racqueteers will take advantage of the opportunity of getting in on the ground floor of the event.

The ladder type of competition offers interesting action for all players. To start the play the netters draw for position on the ladder. Then any player may challenge either of the occupants on the next two higher rungs on the ladder. Players will be required to play at least one match every week, a match consisting of the best two out of three sets.

Play will start as soon as a sufficient number of tennis players in the plant enter the competition. Players wishing to enter the ladder event after the original drawings are made will be placed on the bottom rung.

Woodpeckers Trim Elks; Tie For Top

The Y-12 Woodpeckers of Manager Avery Kendig dehorned the Elks last Thursday night by 7 to 0 in an Oak Ridge Recreation League softball clash to gain a tie for first place as the first half of the loop schedule was completed. The Y-12ers are deadlicked with the Kaighan and Hughes softies with four wins and one loss each, the sole Woodpecker defeat coming at the hands of the K. & H. outfit. The playoff game for the title will be set later.

Joe Kidd pitched and punched the Woodpeckers to their easy triumph over the Elks. Joe allowed the foe only two hits and struck out eight. At the plate he slashed a double and single in three trips, this feat being duplicated by C. Riding.

Peerless Again Has Strength; Y-12ers In Knoxville Tourney

Big Red Clinches Knox-Ridge First Half With Two Wins; Robins Ruffled By Green

The high-riding Y-12 Cardinals, sleek and speedy as their namesakes, will face their sternest test of the season Saturday night at Midtown No. 1 field in Oak Ridge when they tackle the Tennessee state championship softball team from the Peerless Woolen Mills, Rossville, Ga., but playing out of Chattanooga. The state champs will be in Oak Ridge for a double header, meeting the Oak Ridge National Laboratory softies at 7:30 o'clock and the Cardinals in the closing attraction of the night.

The largest crowd of the season for a softball twin bill is expected to be on hand to see the cream of the crop of Oak Ridge teams challenge the crack Woolens. The low admission price of 25 cents will be charged for the double header.

Cards Beat Watson, Amvets

The Cards clinched the first half championship in the Knox-Ridge League last week when they topped the Watson Furniture Co. team of Knoxville by 7 to 2 in a loosely played contest. The Knoxburgers showed up with only eight men and Y-12 started the game under protest to protect their interests in case of an unlikely defeat, but the protest was not needed and was withdrawn. Then the Big Red team blanked the Oak Ridge Amvets, 4 to 0, Friday night to run their string of league triumphs to 10 without a defeat.

Manager Walter Lauter, who has been coaching and piloting Peerless teams to baseball and basketball crowns for lo, these many years, is bringing one of his usually strong outfits here Saturday. The Woolens won the state title in 1950, 1951 and 1952, were Southeastern regional runners-up in 1950 and 1952 and regional winners in 1951.

Peerless Has Seven Vets Back

Lauter has seven veterans of his 1952 champions back in harness, five of them being all-state and all-regional players. This quintet is composed of Harold Hall, catcher; Charley Geyer, third base; Corky Cooke, left field, Bob McCoy, first base; and Ernie Collins, pitcher. Other returning vets are Jim Geyer, right field; and Bob James, a pitcher. The rookie crop this year has come through in fine style and includes Eddie Ingle, shortstop; Dick North, second base; Bernard Nolan, utility; and Ray Griffith, center field.

Although the Peerless game, of course, tops the Card schedule for the present, they have some other engagements scheduled for the week. They are slated to meet the K-25 Blues in their initial appearance in the Knoxville invitational tournament on Friday night, June 19, on the eve of the Peerless game. This clash will be played at 7:30 p. m. at Winona Park, Knoxville. If the Cards are victorious in this one they will meet the winner of the Ashe Hosiery Mill-Powell game at 7:30 p.m., Monday, June 22. Finals in that tournament will be held Saturday night, June 27. Earlier in the week, the Cards were slated to meet Ashe in the last game of the first half of the Knox-Ridge league schedule.

Gene Huskisson Hitting Well

In their two loop games last week the Cards received their usual good hurling and timely hitting. Morris Perry started against Watson and was stingy with his hits but somewhat wild and Bill Wilburn worked the last two innings. Gene Huskisson got a triple and single out of two trips to the plate to top the hitters. Y-12 used 14 players in this scrap. Against the Amvets, who were laying for the Cards, the Y-12ers overcame their old jinx, King Kong Keller, as Bobby Loy hurled two-hit ball and got errorless support. The big blow in the Cardinal attack was a homer by Huskisson with Seivers on base in the sixth that iced the game.

Meanwhile the Y-12 Robins had their feathers sadly ruffled in their only game last week, bowing to the Gus Green team of Knoxville by 15 to 3, the Robins' first loss of the season. Y-12 hurler Ella Mae Koontz had control trouble and kept the Knoxville girls jumping most of the night with 12 of them getting bases on balls and a couple of more forgetting to duck and being plunked in the ribs. Seven of the walks came in the fourth when the winners scored nine runs.

Robins Play Parkmor Friday

The Robins will make their next appearance at 7:30 p.m., Friday night, June 19, at Midtown No. 1 when they meet the Parkmor lassies in a preliminary game to the Bell Ave.-ORNL tilt. They were slated to meet Corryton in the first half of the twin bill in which the Cards played Ashe Monday.

Line scores of games last week follow:

Cardinals Cop Pair From Canton Softies To Boost Reputation

The Y-12 Cardinals considerably swelled their reputation as one of the South's strongest softball aggregations by taking the highly rated Canton, N. C., softies into camp Sunday on the losers' home grounds in a double header. The Y-12ers took an eight-inning thriller by 1 to 0 and then coasted to a 7 to 2 win in the nightcap. The twin victories provided the Cards with revenge over the Carolinians, who defeated the Y-12 team in the opening game of the season.

Bill Wilburn hurled one-hit ball to win for the Cards in the first game, whiffing eight. Kayo Montgomery singled, was sacrificed to second and scored the winning run no Bobby Loy's single. In the second game the Y-12ers got away winging and were never headed as Loy held the opposition to three bingles.

The Robins had a ride over the mountains in vain as the Canton lassies heeded ministerial admonitions against Sunday baseball and failed to show up for their scheduled contest.

Line scores of the Cardinal triumphs follow:

Team				R	H	E
Cardinals	000	000	01—	1	5	3
Canton	000	000	00—	0	1	0
Wilburn and Seivers. Waldroup and Ivester.
Cardinals	104	20—	7	5	3
Canton	000	20—	2	3	3
Loy and Martin. Hyde, Phillips (3) and Ivester.

(Five innings by agreement.)

with authorization for entry into certain designated areas by code colors or numbers.

In order for a Guard to properly check an employee's identification badge, he needs to see:

1. The top of the badge to be sure it is a Y-12 or other authorized badge honored for admission to the plant area.

2. The photograph for proper identification and to be sure that the picture is that of the wearer and that the badge is not being used by an unauthorized person for illegal entry into the plant area.

3. The badge "code" or designation for entry into certain restricted areas in the plant.

4. The bottom of the badge to be sure that is the proper take home badge for entry and exit from the plant portals and not an exchange badge.

Cooperation Beneficial To All

Cooperation of all Y-12ers can prove beneficial to all concerned. Proper badge wearing can expedite entry and exit at portals where badges are checked. Proper badge wearing also can eliminate any possibility of a Y-12er being embarrassed by being required to produce the badge if questioned by a Guard when it cannot be easily seen. All Y-12ers should be proud of and carefully protect their badges, as it is their identification as a loyal American and an employee who has earned the right to wear it.

Some of the practices that hinder prompt badge checks by the Guard Department are:

1. Wearing badges below the waist.
2. Wearing badges with picture concealed.
3. Wearing badges in reverse position.
4. Carrying badges in billfolds or purses.
5. Partially concealing badges with hand or thumb when holding it for check by the Guard Department.

Security Rules Require Badges

Security regulations covering proper wearing of badges are the same in all Carbide Oak Ridge units and require that all employees wear an authorized badge at all times they are in plant areas. In addition to possible embarrassment in being halted by a Guard for improper display of the badge, violators also might face disciplinary action.

Social Security Check Frequently Is Urged

should immediately be reported to both the Company and the Social Security Administration so that a new card with the old number may be issued. Although a person may have a number of different jobs, he should use only the social security number originally issued. That number and the card will be needed whenever a person takes over a new job or in the event of death.

The Knoxville office of the Social Security Administration at 509 West Church Ave., will be glad to assist any Y-12er desiring information on any phase of his social security status.

All entries must be returned and in the hands of the Y-12 Recreation Office, North Portal, not later than noon on next Tuesday, June 23. Then the judges, Russell Hopper, Avery Kendig and Evan Means, will select the winners in the various classes, all of whom will receive awards of merchandise.

All fish caught during the rodeo are eligible for entry in the annual Y-12 Fishing Contest, which runs throughout the year.

Golf Loop To Play Second Half; New Tourney Planned

Managers of teams in the Y-12 Plant Golf League last Friday voted to continue play with a second round of loop competition after a Shaughnessy playoff between the first four teams to determine the first half winners. The golfers also voted to hold another tournament, similar to the unique "high-low" event of several weeks ago.

Rippers Win First Half

First half play was completed last week with the Rippers taking the title by walloping the hapless Eagles for two points. The Chippers took the Fat Boys by the same margin and forfeit wins were turned in by the Hooks over the Plugs and Grand Slammers over the Fat Boys.

The first half playoff will pit the Rippers against the Chippers and the Hooks against the Rough Riders in the first round. The winners then will meet for the first half championship. The first match must be played before June 28 and the finals before July 4.

The managers voted not to have a playoff between the first and second half winners but to have the winning teams declared co-champions and members of each to receive trophies. However, a Shaughnessy playoff will be played again in the second half, with all schedules and rules for this period being the same as for the first half.

A tournament committee composed of Art Hines, Jay Holzknecht and C. E. Harris will work out details for the tournament.

League standing at the end of the first half of the season follows:

Team	W	L
Rippers	14	2
Hooks	12	4
Chippers	12	4
Rough Riders	10	6
Grand Slammers	8	8
Fat Boys	7	9
Plugs	5	11
Sluggers	4	12
Eagles	0	16

Nation Has 'Glass Jaw' For Attack, Scientist Says

In an address before the American Physical Society recently in Washington, D. C., Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner, president of Associated Universities, Inc., operators of Brookhaven National Laboratory, asserted that while the United States has acquired a terrific ounch with which to meet an all-out war, it still has a "glass jaw" because of its own vulnerability to an atomic attack. In reporting the talk, the United Press says Dr. Berkner recommended establishment of a research organization independent of direct military control, to develop new weapons of defense.

Orioles Take MSI In Slow Pitch Loop

The second-place Y-12 Orioles in the Oak Ridge Slow Pitch League added another triumph the easy way last week when Management Services failed to field a team for the scheduled clash. The Orioles of Manager Elmore Koons will meet K-25 at 7 o'clock tonight, Wednesday, June 17, in their next loop contest.

The Y-12ers have a four and one record in the league, losing only their first encounter with the Oak Ridge Hospital, now leading the circuit with five wins and no losses. The first half of the season will be concluded next week when the Orioles will play the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies blooper boys.

Following Y-12 in the standings are the Atomic Energy Commission and K-25, tied at three and two, ORINS and Jewish Congregation deadlocked at two and three, Oak Ridge National Laboratory with one and four and bringing up the rear is MSI with no wins and five defeats.

Pistoleers Enter State Tournament

The Y-12 pistol team, champions of the Oak Ridge Pistol League and winners of a recent score by mail tournament in Tennessee, will go over to Nashville on Sunday, June 28, to fire in the Tennessee State Tournament. On their record during the past several months, the Y-12ers should have a good chance at further honors in the state tournament.

A team of five will make the trip. Expected to represent the plant in the event will be J. K. Bair, Oak Ridge champion pistoleer; J. D. Kington, J. C. Ezell, H. C. Hoy and Garfield Huddleston, a former national champion pistol shot and now in the Y-12 Guard Department.

Matches in the state tournament will be fired with both .22 and .38 calibre pistols.
